LES VERGERS SAINT EUSTACHE

Les Vergers Saint Eustache are the specialist of fruits and vegetables of exceptional high quality. Founded 35 years ago by Robert Maurice in the heart of the famous Montorgueil district, it was bought in 2000 by Michel Charraire. Located in the largest fresh produce market in the world, the company specializes in the selection of exceptional products and is a reference for the greatest chefs in France and around the world.

Their fruits and vegetables come from sustainable agriculture producers and are selected for their taste and originality of variety. 63% of their producers are award winning and comply with requirements to respect local agricultural practices, actively support agriculture based on sustainability and respect

“Le Comptoir des Producteurs” (“The producer’s corner”) is a result of the Charraire family’s commitment to actively supporting sustainable agriculture based on local economies. It not only provides distribution of high quality fruits and vegetables that are remarkable for their taste and originality of their varieties, but also produced by a high number of award-winning farmers. Their produces are in a league of their own.
